The last half, on a delayed pass, Colmore skirted Anburn's right end for a run of 47 yards to the ten-yard line of the Alabamians. After, hald fighting Phillips carried the bail over for a touchdown and Colmore kicked an easy goal.

Auburn's defensive work was phenomenal. On three occasions with the ball within one yard of their goal, they threw the heavy Tennesseeans back and bucked the bail out of danger. Elmer, of Auburn was the star of the game, his work in the line being remarkable. Colmore's long gain won the game for Sewance.

nnouncement of the failure of Mr. Leon has long occupied a prominent position nd the effects of it on the different oncerns with which the bankrupt was nore or less prominently connected.

At the same time the liveliest regret is expressed by the many friends of Mr. Strause at the catastrophe which overside, his business affairs appeared in a fourishing condition. The announcement came like a bolt from a clear sky and took all by surprise. While no ex-citement appears to have been created in any quarter, even among the creditors, the shock was none the less distinctly felt. Quite a stir was created on the tobaccomarket, where everyone had a word to say in connection with the matter.

PLANS FOR THE FUTURE. What Mr. Strause's plans for the future are it is impossible now to say. Severa are it is impossible now to say. Several efforts were made yesterday to reach him, but without effect, and it is hardly possible that he would at this time have any statement to make. It is generally felt, however, that he will weather the storm and regain his feet after a little. With wealthy and influential friends and relatives behind him, it can hardly be doubted that he will be able to appear. On ed that he will be able to appear on deck again.

Likewise, it is impossible to get any definite statement concerning the probable causes of the failure. Among the Strause appeared to be getting along the cellently well, and there was no warning of the coming crash. Shrink-ge of stocks may have been the cause, though that it is can only be given as the opinion of outsiders. One thing cartainly helped to bring about the failure. About two weeks ago, the Seaboard Knitting Mills, at Henderson, N. C., were placed in the hands of a receiver. Mr. Strause is said to have had about $49,000 in this concern. This is believed to have brought the creditors of Mr. Strause down on him, and he was thus forced to the wall.

RECEIVERS QUALIFY.
While the discussion of the situation is proceeding, the affairs of Mr. Strause are being wound up with all possible expedition. Mr. Henry S. Hutzler and Mr. A. M. Cannon qualified yesterday as receivers and at once got to work. For the present the only basis upon which they can operate are the figures furnished the court. They will probably submit a report within a few days. On the 18th of the present month a meeting of the circle.

Bank yesterday evening that the failure would not affect that institution. It would weather the loss, if there were any. and the people had confidence in it and were not withdrawing their money. This bank was much the heaviest loser. The First National and Planter's banks are creditors of Mr. Strause to the amount of nearly $20,000 each, but several times that sum would not affect these institutions which are as strong as any in the entire land. No greater embarrass-ment anywhere is expected from the bankruptcy of Mr. Strause.

BOSTON MYSTERY

lishes a Link With the McPhee Murder-He Will Take a Look at Mason To-Day.

BOSTON, MASS., Nov. 6 .- To-day's derelopments in the case of Alan G. Mason, who is under arrest, charged with the murder of Miss Clara Morton, a Waverly, last Saturday night, have been of a startling nature. It was announced first that the watch of the victim had been found in a Cambridge Street pawnshop, where it had been pawned for $4 by a young colored man, and this discovery at once led to a general search for this man by the entire police force, but without avail.

But later developments were far more sensational. When the pawnbroker's memory had been jogged a little and he had time to think over the matter, he remembered that the watch had been brought to his office on last Saturday by a white man and offered in pawn Owing to the fact that it was after busi-ness hours he refused to receive it, and after expressing disappointment, the man departed, taking the watch with him.
PAWNED ON MONDAY.

On Monday morning the same watch was brought in by a colored man, about 21 years of age, of whom the pawnbroker bought it for $4. A burly colored man, evidently a companion of the other, had been waiting outside the shop while the trade was being made, and, as soon as it was completed, he entered and took the money which the proprietor had passed over. Both men then de-

Continuing their investigations, the officers made another startling discovery which wil have an important bearing on the case, to the effect that the watch of Miss Agues McPhee, of Somerville, another "Jack-the-slugger" victim, had been pawned at the same Cambridge Street shop, on October 3d, the day after her murder, by a white man whose de-

The description of these men is said by the police to agree to a striking extent with that of the suspect Mason, and the pawnbroker will be given a chance tomorrow to identify him, if possible, as his visitor.

The unexpected developments to-day

The unexpected developments to-day have been most unfavorable to the pris-oner, although his friends still claim that he can fully establish an alibi. Search for the mysterious colored man is being carried on as vigorously as ever, and all sections of the city are being closely watched by the police to-night.
